Fading Momentum

The Intelligent Fund Investor by Harloff Inc.

Nov. 19: Our momentum indicators... are dropping rapidly for most funds. In contrast, HVI [a proprietary forecasting index] is increasing for a Japanese fund, 10-yearbond yields and the U.S. dollar index. The Japanese market is unusually strong and quantitative easing by the Fed should lower bond yields... We predict a short-term top at this time in the U.S. markets. Our model portfolios are in money markets at this time.
